

Karmodaya

Compassion.Service.Progress

Safe Sanitation With Dignity

Indigenous people gets attacked and killed by animals while being out in the forest for personal hygiene. This campaign seeks to provide safe, covered toilets, bath stalls, and biodegradable feminine hygiene products to indigenous communities in India. Please donate any amount now at karmodaya.org

$300 - the cost + installation of 1 toilet

$600 - cost + installation of 1 toilet and shower stall

Residents of Kerehaadi tribal hamlet during 'Parambha', a programme to handover 10 toilets-cum-bathhouses, in HD Kote taluk, Mysuru district.

Newly-constructed toilets handed over to a beneficiaries. George Kannanthanam, Vinod Kumar and Sreenesh Sreedhar are seen. PHOTOS BY SPECIAL ARRANGEMENT

Forums team up to build toilets in tribal hamlets to prevent man-animal conflict

Karmodaya is a tax deductible 501(c)(3) nonprofit organization formed by professionals of Indian origin.