

Dr. Ambika Ashraf MD

Dr. Ambika Ashraf completed her pediatric residency and fellowship in pediatric endocrinology at the University of Alabama at Birmingham (UAB). She is the division director of Pediatric Endocrinology and Diabetes at UAB, Professor of Pediatrics / Pediatric Endocrinology, and the Ralph Frohsin Endowed Chair in Pediatrics. Dr. Ashraf also serves as the associate director of the UAB Comprehensive Diabetes Center, medical director of Children's of Alabama Pediatric Endocrinology Clinics, and director of the Pediatric Lipid Clinic at the Children's of Alabama.

Dr. Ashraf specializes in pediatric lipidology, insulin resistance disorders in children, and metabolic bone disorders. She co-founded the Lipid Special interest group at the Pediatric Endocrine Society. Dr. Ashraf is a Fellow of the National Lipid Association and a diplomate American Board of Clinical Lipidology. She is nationally and internationally known for her work on pediatric lipid disorders.

Dr Jame Abraham, MD

Professor, Department of Medicine, School of Medicine
Deputy Director for Cleveland Clinic, Case Comprehensive Cancer Center
Member, Developmental Therapeutics Program, Case Comprehensive Cancer Center

Jame Abraham, MD, FACP, is Acting Chair of the Taussig Cancer Institute and Chair of the Department of Hematology and Medical Oncology at Cleveland Clinic. He is also a Professor of Medicine at Cleveland Clinic Lerner College of Medicine.

From 2013 to 2019, Dr. Abraham served as director of the Cleveland Clinic Breast Oncology Program, and co-Director of the Cleveland Clinic Comprehensive Breast Cancer Program, until he was promoted to Department Chairman. He has more than 17 years of experience in treating complicated breast cancer diagnoses, from early-stage to metastatic, and leading novel clinical trials

Dr Venkit S. Iyer MBBS, MS-Surgery, FACS, FRCS-C, FICS
Retired General Surgeon and Author

Dr. Venkit S. Iyer is a board certified surgeon, Fellow of American College of Surgeons (FACS), Fellow of Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons of Canada (FRCS-C), and Fellow of International College of Surgeons (FICS). He holds a Master's degree (MS) in surgery. He has held many leadership positions, teaching positions, and given many talks and lectures in various forums.